Imagine this:

Get up in the morning, class is five minutes away. No buses. No parking hassle. And you can sleep (or study) an extra half hour.

Spring afternoons. You study by the pool. Really.

Friday night. You're just a walk away from campus nightlife.

You graduate. Now you're faced with the biggest choice so far. Do you sell and cash in on your investment, or do you keep it as an income property?

Either way, good choice.
